

A sculpture by Fritz Koenig titled 'The Sun'. It features a winged female figure, possibly a personification of the sun or a celestial being, holding a large, circular sun disk with a face. The figure is positioned in front of a large, stylized sun with long, radiating rays. To the left of the figure is a ship's mast with a wheel and a sail. The entire sculpture is made of a light-colored material, possibly wood or plaster, and is set against a plain, light-colored background. The sculpture is mounted on a wooden base.
